In the smoking room at the club the low murmur of a man's voice came soothingly to the ears of his listener. "It was a most embarrassing predicament," the voice went on. "She was such a lovely girl, and I had no idea it was so late. I stood there debating with myself, and just then—"

A shudder, which the speaker tried vainly to suppress, shook his frame violently. "her father came down stairs and helped me out."

SENATOR VEST ON THE WAR PATH

He Begins Where Tillman Left Off in His Speech.

Makes Keen and Satirical Allusions to the President and Shouts Latin at the Secretary of Agriculture, who is Compared to Job's War Horse—Resolution Recognizing Both Combatants in Cuba as Belligerents.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5.—The most caustic utterance heard in the Senate since Mr. Tillman's sensational speech was that of Mr. Vest, of Missouri, to-day, arraigning Secretary of Agriculture Morton. The keen satire and ridicule directed against the secretary and the allusions to the President made the speech hardly less notable than that which recently startled the Senate. Mr. Vest referred derisively to "the colossal intellect dealing with cabbages."

At one point the Senator said: "The Secretary of Agriculture charges from his office, reminding us of what Cicero says of Cataline's flight from the Senate: 'Abest exessit, evasit, erupit.'" (Laughter.)

"When the Secretary of Agriculture hears of a silver lunatic he is like the war horse in Job, his neck is clothed with thunder. You might go further and say, 'He saith among the prophets ha! ha! and he smelleth the battle afar off, the thunder of the captains and the shouting.'"

Mr. Vest severely criticized the practice of furnishing costly flowers from government greenhouses for the receptions at the Executive Mansion and added:

"Sir, I would rather give twice the amount of this appropriation to enable some poor man in a distant county of the West, who is fighting the hard battle of life; I would rather give him something that would make his cheerless home comfortable and bring light to his fireside; I would rather put one flower in the sick room of a noble working girl or matron than to have it said that I voted a hundred and odd thousands of dollars for the flowers and exotics to go to the receptions and banquets of the officials of this Government, while the chandelier flashes its light across the red wine and the air is fragrant with perfume like the spicy breeze of Araby, the Blessed."

Mr. Quay's resolution to recommit the tariff finance bill failed to be considered, as Mr. Vest's speech occupied all the morning hour of the Senate, thus sending over the Quay resolution until to-morrow.

A new phase of the Cuban question was presented by Mr. Morgan's report from the committee on foreign relations recognizing a state of war in Cuba and according both contestants as belligerents.

The debate on the resolution distributing the appropriation bills was continued during the afternoon but no vote was reached.

House Proceedings.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5.—The debate on the Senate free coinage substitute for the House bond bill was scheduled to commence to-day, and there was a good attendance in consequence in the galleries. The session opened with an attempt to pass a bill to stop the "pugilistic festival" billed to take place "near El Paso, Tex." on February 14. Mr. Catron, the delegate from New Mexico, asked unanimous consent for the consideration of the bill, which makes it a misdemeanor, punishable by imprisonment, for men to engage in a pugilistic encounter in the District of Columbia or the territories of the United States.

The bill had not been reported by a committee, and Mr. Baileys (Dem., N. Y.) interposed an objection, but withdrew it when Mr. Henderson (Rep., Iowa) pleaded the urgency of the case.

Mr. Catron explained that it was notorious, that the preparations for the series of fights now going on at El Paso, Texas, could not take place there, but were to occur in the territory of New Mexico, which was within three miles of El Paso. He said that it was the purpose of the managers of these fights to supplement them with bull fights, and some Mexican bulls were now on their way to the United States. In view of the shortness of the time remaining (nine days) he warned the House that if objection were made and the bill was sent to a committee it could not pass both Houses and be signed in time to prevent the "mills."

Mr. Knox (Rep., Mass.) objected and the bill went to the committee, which reported it favorably, after which it was passed without division.

The regular order being then demanded the vote was taken on the amendments of the District of Columbia appropriation bill to strike out the ap-proportions for sectarian charitable institutions, which stood 135 years; 143 noon.

Sixty-one Republicans voted against the bill. It was the first defeat sustained by the majority and was greeted with cheers on the Democratic side.

Mr. Grosvenor (Rep., Ohio) moved to reconsider. This was carried 189 to 80. Mr. Grosvenor then moved to re-commit the bill with instructions to re-examine the bill and report on the sub divisions under the head of charities.

At 3 o'clock the House went into committee of the whole (Mr. Payne, Rep. of N. Y. in the chair) and took up the consideration of the free coinage substitute for the House bond bill.

Chairman Dingley gave notice that at the proper time, under the instruction of the committee on ways and means, he would move to no-concur.

Mr. Dingley spoke nearly two hours. Mr. Crisp gave notice that at the proper time he would move that the House concur in the Senate substitute.

At 5 o'clock the House took a recess until 8 o'clock for the purpose of allowing gentlemen to speak this evening.

There were less than fifty members at the night session of the House and the galleries were a barren waste. But there was at least one interesting passage at arms. Mr. Pearson (Rep., N. C.) was urging the silver Republicans to stand by their party as the party that would solve the silver question in the interest of the largest circulation of silver consistent with the public credit.

He urged his silver Republican friends in North Carolina not to join the Populist party at the invitation of South Carolina. "We accepted South Carolina's invitation to secede once," said he dramatically, "and got whipped."

"We didn't get whipped," shouted Mr. Talbert (Dem. S. C.), "we seceded and would do so again."

"I am sorry for anyone who still believes in secession," said Mr. Pearson.

"I do," said Mr. Talbert angrily, "and I want the gentleman to understand that we didn't get whipped and never will be whipped." This Spartan declaration caused laughter on the floor, but the galleries applauded it vigorously.

"When h—l breaks loose," remarked Mr. Pearson, "some one has said, rightly, I guess, that it will be in South Carolina." (Laughter.)

Mr. Bell (Rep., Colo.); Wilson (Rep. Idaho); Little (Dem., Ark.); Linney (Rep., N. C.) and Shafroth (Rep., Colo.) argued in favor of concurring in the Senate free coinage substitute and Mr. Daniel (Rep., N. Y.) in favor of the committee's recommendation to non-concur.

At 10:35 the House adjourned.

A COMPLETE SUCCESS.

So Treasury Officials Regard the Government Call for a Popular Loan.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5.—Four thousand six hundred and forty bids for $558,269,850 worth of bonds. Such is the tremendous total of the subscriptions opened at the Treasury Department to-day in accordance with the terms of the call issued a month ago inviting proposals for $100,000,000 of United States 4 per cent. bonds to run for thirty years from February 1, 1895. These figures do not include about $120,000,000 of "crank" bids rejected as bogus. The immense offerings astounded experts.

The bids literally swamped the Treasury Department which was so taken by surprise that at 6 o'clock to-night, although extra clerks had been hurriedly drafted, the work of tabulating the bids was still in progress and it was impossible to tell with definiteness how many bids and for what aggregate had been received at figures in advance of the upset price of 110.68 7/7, at which a syndicate composed of J. P. Morgan & Co., Biny, Flek & Co. and the Deutsche Bank of Berlin offered to take the whole loan. The bids ranged from par up to a single $50 bid at 150. It is impossible therefore to say at this time how the awards will be made.

Treasury officials regard the loan as a complete success, both as to the popular subscription feature and the prices obtained. Bids came from several thousand individuals and from hundreds of national banks and other banking institutions. Nearly all the leading New York bankers and big insurance companies were represented in the list of bidders, but with few exceptions they were out-maneuvred by the Morgan syndicate.

Owing to the confusion caused by the magnitude of the offerings and the consequent delay in classifying and scheduling the bids, any authoritative statement of the policy that will be pursued cannot be made at this time. As the great bulk of offerings were below the Morgan figure, it is believed, that the syndicate headed by the great New York bankers will be accepted for at least $50,000,000 and possibly more.

In any event no bid below the syndicate rate of 110.68 7/7 will be accepted, as that rate covers the entire loan. It is understood that Mr. Morgan will procure a part of the gold from abroad and will not need to deplete the Treasury to furnish any part of the gold called for under his bid. There were a vast number of bids for figures fractionally rising 110 but under the Morgan figure, and for amounts aggregating sufficient to take up the entire loan. Among them were the officers of the Stewart and McCall syndicates, including the big insurance, banking and trust companies of New York city, which stood ready to take huge blocks of bonds at figures in excess of prices named a week ago as high mark for large lots.

Secretary Carlisle was greatly pleased at the success of the bond offerings. He said no definite statement could be made as yet concerning the awards to successful bidders nor how far if at all he would exercise his option of rejecting any or all bids.

THE ASYLUM INVESTIGATION

Both Houses of the Legislature Decide to Continue it.

What Senator Stubbs Says of the Horrors Already Revealed—The New Jersey Road Inspectors Return—The Maupin Anti-Gambling Bill Called up Yesterday—Bill for the Relief of General Field Defeated.

RICHMOND, Va., Feb. 5.—The members of the legislature who went to New Jersey to inspect the system by which public roads of that State are kept in order, returned this morning.

Mr. Hathaway presented in the house a report similar to the one offered in the senate yesterday with reference to the investigation of the charges against the Deaf, Dumb and Blind Institute. The matter was debated briefly and the house unanimously decided that the investigation should proceed. A similar action was taken by the senate. This means that the inquiry into the charges will continue and a report will be made to the general assembly before adjournment.

Senator Stubbs, chairman of the special committee appointed to investigate the scandals of the Deaf, Dumb and Blind Institute of Staunton, appeared before the Senate yesterday and asked that the investigation be suspended until the adjournment of the legislature. He stated that eighteen witnesses had been examined and that there were many yet to examine. Senator Stubbs has been in political harness for thirty years and on many investigating committees. He stated that the horrors this investigation had unfolded were beyond description, that he was ready at the demand of the senate to continue the work, but with tears in his eyes, he pleaded with the senate to, at least for a time, let this bitter cup pass from him. During the proceedings of this investigation strong men have been seen to turn pale and gnash their teeth in silent rage. The developments are perfectly awful and make one hesitate and ask himself if we really live in a civilized age.

The Maupin anti-gambling bill came up in the house as the special order at 1 o'clock p. m. to-day. Mr. Murphy, of Richmond, and Mr. Maupin, spoke in favor of the bill. Mr. Reddy opposed it, and in his address brought out the fact that Judge Norton, of Alexandria, was the author of the Pilcher bill.

The Hundley bill passed the house to-day by a vote of 48 to 39.

In the senate the resolution for the relief of Gen. James G. Field was defeated.

The finance committee of the house has declined to recommend an appropriation for a Virginia exhibit at the Nashville exposition.

After the ceremony the party partook of a wedding breakfast at the house of Mrs. Joseph R. Anderson and later the bride and groom left for Old Point Comfort.

Bedford City's New Postmaster.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5.—The President to-day sent the following nominations to the Senate: Postmasters—A. B. Claytor, Bedford City, Va.; F. P. Kane-stock, Cleveland, Tenn.; Peter Bradshaw, South Pittsburg, Tenn.; Treasury—First Lieutenant Geo. H. Gooding, to be captain in the revenue cutter service; Second Lieutenant Daniel J. Ainsworth, to be first lieutenant in the revenue cutter service.

MRS. WHITE ACQUITTED.

A Large Number of Indictments—Liggon Convicted.

Mrs. E. W. White, indicted for the theft of a diamond ring from Mrs. C. K. Schwarz on January 7, was put on trial. The evidence was purely circumstantial, as Mrs. Schwarz did not see her take the ring, but the circumstances upon which she was arrested and as brought out in the testimony, were as follows:

Mrs. Schwarz had taken the ring from her finger and placed it on the bed, and was sitting near it when the defendant made an excuse to leave the room, which she did very hurriedly, passing between Mrs. Schwarz and the ring. She soon returned, and the loss of the ring was immediately discovered. A strict search was at once instituted by them both, but the ring was not found. Mrs. White remained with the family two days longer, and when about to leave was arrested by the authorities and locked up. She was sent on to the grand jury by Police Justice Williams, and bailed in the sum of $100 on her own recognizance, after which she left Roanoke and went to Lynchburg, where she remained for some time and then came back to this city, ostensibly to prove her innocence. She seems to have worked herself into the good graces of the benevolent society, several members of which have taken some interest in securing employment for and otherwise assisting her.

It was brought out in the evidence that the defendant was a native of Washington and had lived at several places in California, among them San Francisco, and that she had traveled all over the country, living for a while in Baltimore, and then in Wilmington, Del., again in Baltimore, and in Richmond, Va., following various occupations and at times refusing to state where she had lived and what occupation she had followed. The attorneys representing both the defendant and the Commonwealth made able speeches. The jury returned a verdict of not guilty.

M. M. Liggon was tried on the charge of stealing a watch and found guilty. He was fined $5 and sentenced to fifteen days in the city jail.

The grand jury on yesterday returned the following indictments, all true bills: Robert Harvey, Wm. Wesley, Aza White, William Taylor, George Gilbert, Roy Sheppard and Jerry Withers, small boys, for stealing brandy and wine from the Ponce de Leon; S. D. Bloomfield, alias S. L. Bloomberg, alias Joseph Adler, felony; John Saunders, unlawful cutting, felony; M. M. Liggon, petit larceny; John Donaldson, carrying a pistol, two counts; disturbing public worship, one count; John H. Garst, petit larceny; John C. Hale, alias Jasper J. Hale, bigamy, two counts; same for lewd and lascivious cohabitation.

A MYSTERIOUS CRAFT.

Strange Movements of a Fishing Steamer at Norfolk.

NORFOLK, Va., Feb. 5.—Owing to the publicity given to the mysterious movements of the fishing steamer I. N. Vessey, which has been under suspicion here by the Spanish authorities as a Cuban filibuster, reports have gone forth that the story was groundless. Full and later investigation proves the thorough soundness of the original statement published in these dispatches. It now develops that the owner of the Vessey is a Mr. Adams, who denies nothing in regard to the story barring the detail, which he treats humorously of being a "well dressed stranger." The boat moved from point to point in the upper and lower harbor and a tug was constantly in attendance, though without any material mission.

Despite all reports to the contrary the steamer is known to have attempted the passage of the capes but the espionage of the strange tug proved too thorough. The Vessey returned to her anchorage night before last, but early this morning put to sea in company with the tug Luckenbach, ostensibly bound for New York. All this too, it is said, with the knowledge of Mr. Adams. But now comes the other side of the story.

It is known that a sea-going tug, fully as worthy as the Luckenbach, has put to sea with no purpose in view other than keeping track of the Vessey, and that, too, it is said, on the authority of the Spanish agents known to be located in this port.

Earthquake Shocks and War and Famine Causing Her Trouble.

HAVANA, Feb. 5.—An earthquake shock of an alarming nature was experienced to-day at Santa Cruz del Sur, provinces of Purrio Principe. BLOODY WORK OF AN ANARCHIST

He Murders Six Persons and Then Kills Himself.

His Father, Mother, Wife and Three Daughters the Victims—He Was Out of Work and of Unsound Mind—Each One Shot Through the Brain—Sharpened Knives Showed Further Preparations to Fully Complete the Deed.

CHICAGO, Feb. 5.—An entire family of six, father, mother, wife and three children, were murdered last night by Richard Klatzke, a Lakeview carpenter, who then completed his work by killing himself. The dead are: Richard Klatzke, carpenter, 38 years of age; Kate Klatzke, his wife; John Klatzke, his father, 73 years of age; Mina Klatzke, his mother, aged 71 years; Mina Klatzke, his daughter, aged 9; Anna Klatzke, daughter, aged 8; Emma Klatzke, daughter, aged 7. Klatzke used a revolver to do the bloody work. He was an anarchist and of unsound mind. He had been out of work for some time and this fact, the police believe, led to the terrible tragedy. The bodies were discovered in the house early this morning by a neighbor who called to inform Klatzke that he had found employment for him. Each victim had been shot through the brain and the murderer seems to have laid his plans with the utmost deliberation and carried them out to the letter. Sharpened knives were found beside the corpse of Klatzke, indicating that he was prepared to complete his bloody work by other means should the bullets fail.

This is the third time a husband has killed his entire family in Chicago within less than a year. July 5 last Fritz Hellman, a stone mason, turned on the gas and destroyed the lives of himself, his wife and four children. Hellman had been sunstruck and this is believed to have unsettled his mind. Less than a month ago came the crime of Jens Hansen, alias Peter Hougard. Hansen by turning on the gas wiped out a family of wife and five children and added to the crime of murder that of suicide. Business troubles were responsible for Hansen's desperation.

POISONED WITH ALCOHOL.

Further Details of the Unfortunate Affair Sunday.

PENNINGTON GAP, Va., Feb. 5.—(Special.)—A sad occurrence was witnessed by the citizens of this place Sunday night. Dr. J. A. Hurst, Wilse Myers and John Stacy drank a quart of alcoholic mixture, which put them in a very dangerous condition. To amend the matter Hurst thought it best to give them all a hypodermic injection, which he did.

Myers died in a very short time afterwards. Stacy started for his home and after walking about 200 yards fell down an embankment on the railroad track, where he was found in an unconscious condition by some of his friends, who took him to his home and did all they could to save him, but it was of no avail. He died about 11 o'clock Monday morning.

Hurst was removed to his residence Monday and is at 1 critically ill. They were all respected citizens of this place, and their loss is mourned by many. Myers was a carpenter and a hard working man. He leaves a wife and six children. Stacy is also a laboring man, and leaves a large family in distress.

Later Report.

BLUEFIELD, W. Va., Feb. 5.—The drunken spree of Dr. Hurst and a party of friends at Pennington Gap, Va., has claimed three victims already and the list may be added to later. The doctor while drunk injected morphine into himself and his companions, causing the death very shortly of one of the party named Myers. Of Mr. Tracy, another member, ten hours later and since then of Dr. Hurst himself, while one or two other victims of the drunken freak are so ill that recovery is doubtful. The drunken crowd seized and held Mrs. Myers, wife of the first of the victim, while Dr. Hurst gave her morphine. She was then thrown into convulsions and is not expected to live. All the men connected with the affair are well known in southwestern Virginia.

THE KENTUCKY SENATORSHIP.

The Deadlock Continues, But Interest is Increasing.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Feb. 5.—A special to the Post from Frankfort says: For thirty minutes before the clock in the house chamber indicated the noon hour, the lobbies and galleries of the house were crowded to their utmost capacity. Everybody was talking about the Senatorial race, and feeling as to the outcome of the ballot to-day was intense. The qualification of Beckham, and Ogilvie's appearance in the Senate chamber had awakened both parties to a realization of the struggle ahead, and the members, who for a week have been careless and taking but a passing interest, were thoroughly aroused. Roll call showed 134 members present. The ballot resulted: Hunter, 68; Blackburn, 63; Carlisle 3; McCreary, 2; Bate, 1.
